Trusted service provider delivering efficiencies and financial savings through close partnership working

Imerja is a specialist IT service provider with a strong pedigree in delivering IT infrastructure and IT security solutions, providing technical, engineering, professional and support services underpinned by an experienced team of business professionals and industry specialists.

The services offered by Imerja are continually developed to respond to challenges within the market and provide customers with cost effective solutions that are aligned to their requirements. With a strong technical focus, Imerja works in partnership with its customers to design innovative solutions that deliver greater efficiencies, reduced total cost of ownership (TCO), environmental benefits and financial savings.

“Imerja brings a breadth of resources and experience in a number of areas at a critical time in our development and compliments existing in-house resources.”

Director, Transformational Government
Cabinet Office

To ensure seamless end-to-end delivery for its customers, Imerja also provides a portfolio of essential and complementary services including infrastructure assessment, policy development, incident management, project management and procurement services, complex hosting and 24x7 managed services. All of these can be tailored to meet specific business or operational requirements, and are completely flexible to integrate with existing in house services.

Considered a trusted partner by its customers and with a strong focus of working with the public sector, Imerja has a growing portfolio of customers that spans central and local government, healthcare, education and not for profit organisations.

Many key members in the Imerja team have previously worked in public sector organisations holding senior management and technical roles, providing a necessary understanding of the demands and challenges they face, and helping to establish strong, long-term customer relationships.

IT in step with your business

Recognised for its strong commitment to partnership working, Imerja is focused on customer satisfaction – something which is taken very seriously across the business. Short term gain is not sought at the expense of developing a long term trusted relationship, and with a reputation for putting in the extra effort when it is required to deliver a solution on time or resolve a problem Imerja enjoys one hundred per cent customer retention.

“The service and support we receive from Imerja is consistently excellent, and the commitment to getting the job done, whatever challenges arise, is never in doubt.”

Assistant Director of IT
Chelsea & Westminster Healthcare NHS Trust

Imerja has a long association and involvement with the development and successful delivery of policy and project implementations around key national and strategic agendas. Strong account management and a willingness to remain flexible to changing demands and business requirements has seen Imerja successfully deliver critical projects to demanding timescales as well as provide expert advice to underpin strategic decisions.

Working with over a hundred customer organisations throughout the UK, Imerja’s customer portfolio includes many household names and national institutions.

The brief customer list opposite illustrates the type of public sector organisations Imerja works with - further details on the services Imerja provides to these and other customers can be provided on request.
